About the Museum

The Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum's mission is to preserve and explore the history, environment and people of the Chesapeake Bay. The Museum is a non-profit organization dedicated to telling the stories of the Chesapeake Bay and the people who have shaped their lives around it.

Situated on 18 waterfront acres in the historic town of St. Michaels, Maryland, the Museum offers exhibitions, demonstrations, boat rides on the Miles River, and annual festivals that celebrate Chesapeake Bay culture, boats, seafood, and history.

The Museum's floating fleet of historic Chesapeake Bay watercraft is the largest in existence and its small boat collection includes crabbing skiffs, workboats, and log canoes. The Museum's working boatyard highlights restoration of the Bay's traditional vessels.

Nearly 70,000 people visit the museum each year, including more than 20,000 children and adults who participate in numerous educational and boatbuilding programs offered at the Museum. Visit cbmm.org for more information.
